SISSA arranges for insurance coverage for the research fellow against accidents in the workplace and for third party liability while carrying out his/her research work. The amount of relevant premiums shall be deducted from the fellowship.

Should the funding not be guaranteed by the funding authority, SISSA reserves the right to not implement the fellowship. The validity of the contract is therefore subject to the verification of the necessary financial coverage.

Article 10 - Duties of SISSA

SISSA shall make available to the research fellow the equipment and tools necessary to implement the research project, and shall provide a scientific tutoring service carried out by its teaching or research staff.

SISSA ensures to keep all documents related to each submitted application in a separate (paper and/or electronic) folder, which will be constantly updated and stored at the headquarters of SISSA – Research Funding and International Relations Office.

Article 11 - Duties of the research fellow

At the start of the project the research fellow shall be resident or domiciled in the Friuli Venezia Giulia region.

For this purpose, the research fellow shall submit to SISSA one of the affidavit foreseen by the Italian Presidential Decree No. 445, dated December 28th, 2000, notifying the chosen domicile in the Friuli Venezia Giulia region on the starting date of the project.

While carrying out the research project the fellow shall:

- a) follow the plan of the activities and time schedule of the goals foreseen by the project or set by the scientist responsible for the position;
- b) follow the rules of conduct in force at SISSA;
- c) submit to SISSA any reports of the activity carried out as required by the regional regulations regarding ESF-funded research fellowships, as well as the annual analytical report on the scientific activity that has been carried out, signed by the research fellow and validated by the scientist responsible for the position;
- d) submit to SISSA the final report signed by the fellow and validated by the scientific responsible for the position, which acts as certificate of completion of the research activities.

Article 12 - Early termination

In the event that the research fellow resigns before the natural expiration of the contract, due to any of the following circumstances, duly substantiated:

- (a) compulsory maternity leave;

- (b) parental leave of up to six months, which can be extended to nine months for single parents, as provided by law;
- (c) serious health reasons;
- (d) other causes beyond the research fellow's control and so serious as to prevent the performance of the research activities during the period concerned, judged as such by the competent bodies of SISSA and by the manager of the Regional Administration, acting as the funding body; or
- (e) new job or academic position, but only if the research fellowship contract has been carried out for at least 40% of its intended duration the research activity carried out in the framework of this fellowship will be paid according to the months and days actually elapsed and worked since the start of the contract.

In the event that the termination of the contract is not justified by one of the above-mentioned reasons, or refers to the circumstances described in letter (e) but the research fellowship contract has not been carried out for at least 40% of its intended duration, the grant shall not be paid and the recipient shall be required to return to SISSA the full amount already received since the start of the contract.

If the scientist responsible for the fellowship notifies the Administration of a failure to properly perform the research activities foreseen by the contract, SISSA reserves the right to suspend the monthly payment of the grant.

In case of major non-compliance the contract can be terminated by decision of the School Senate and upon a reasoned proposal of the Area Council, having heard the researcher concerned.

The contract is automatically resolved in the following cases:

- unjustified delay or failure to start the research activity;
- unjustified suspension of the activity for more than 15 days;
- breach of the incompatibilities established by the current Rules for the awarding of research fellowship in SISSA;
- negative evaluation of the research activity expressed by the Area Council.

At least 30 days' notice must be given by the fellow in case of resignation. Failure to do so shall result in a penalty involving the recovery of or the failure to pay the salary for the period of notice not given. The 30 days' notice obligation shall not apply during the first 30 days of the research activity.

The loss of the external funding enabling the activation of the research fellowship constitutes cause for termination by SISSA. In that case SISSA is required to give the research fellow an advance notice of at least 60 days.

Should SISSA fail to respect the aforesaid notice period, SISSA shall pay to the fellow an amount corresponding to the remuneration for the period of notice not given.

Article 13 - Suspension of the project

The project and the payment of the research fellowship may be suspended only in the following cases, upon notification by the beneficiary:

- a) maternity leave
- b) parental leave of up to six months, which can be extended to nine months for single parents, as provided by law;
- c) serious health reasons;
- d) other causes beyond the research fellow's control and so serious as to prevent the performance of the research activities during the period concerned, judged as such by the competent bodies of SISSA and by the manager of the Regional Administration, acting as the funding body.

For the purpose of proper management of public funding, and in view of the 2021-2027 programming deadlines, suspension is allowed for up to 12 months, whether consecutive or resulting from several suspension periods.

In such cases, the research fellow should submit a duly certified request. The project may be restarted at the end of the suspension period and must be completed in any case by December 31st, 2028.
